On October 7, 2026, Texas Pacific Land Corporation (the "Company") sent an email communication to certain stockholders of the Company (the "Stockholder Communication") regarding the Company's 2026 Annual Meeting of Stockholders (the "Annual Meeting"). A copy of the Stockholder Communication is provided below.

Hi,

We are reaching out regarding Texas Pacific Land's Annual Meeting on November 5, at which shareholders will consider the company's proposed redomestication from Delaware to Texas. We would welcome the opportunity to answer any questions your team may have regarding the proposal or any other item on the ballot.

The Board carefully considered and believes Texas is the appropriate corporate home for Texas Pacific Land because:

- TPL is fundamentally a Texas company. Its headquarters, management, employees and business operations are based in Texas, and virtually all of its land holdings are located in the state. TPL is the largest private landowner in Texas.
- TPL has no meaningful connection to Delaware other than its current state of incorporation.
- The proposal is designed to preserve shareholder rights. TPL would maintain all material governance rights and is not proposing to opt into the elective provisions of Texas law (such as those that restrict derivative claims or shareholder proposals).

The proxy statement is available here for reference.

Please let us know if you would be interested in engaging in advance of the November 5 vote.

Thank you,
Shawn
